1. [REDACTED] informed the Station that [REDACTED] and also came to [REDACTED] with George ZOTIADIS and his wife, and that all three had dinner the night of 30 January 1961 with [REDACTED] Minister of Interior/Minister MAURIS and his wife, the famous Donatella of the Martini case. [REDACTED] and ZOTIADIS were to leave on 1 February for Hamburg where the latter will remain for one and a half months, presumably working on the Martini problem. [REDACTED] added that former Italian Minister Antonio GIOVANNINI, a Cypriot student in Germany, was also in contact with Martini on 31 January. 2. From this mixture of familiar names it is logical to conclude that the Greek and Cyprus Governments are concerned about one and the same case, the efforts of the Grivas Group to cause the former embarrassment through the Martini affair and the latter harassment through the Pansyrian Fighters Association.
